October 4, 2020, St. Louis, Mo. - It was wild action-packed day of racing at the Mopar Express Land Midwest Nationals Presented by Pennzoil at World Wide Technology Raceway near St. Louis that concluded with an all-Mopar Funny Car final round showdown, a record 11th consecutive national event victory for the Don Schumacher Racing (DSR) team, and a shuffling atop the leaderboard for the final stretch in the National Hot Rod Association (NHRA) Funny Car world championship.

Tommy Johnson Jr. earned his second Wally trophy of the 2020 season by defeating DSR teammates Jack Beckman in the semifinals and then Matt Hagan in the final, both of whom he is battling in a tight Funny Car championship fight with just three national events remaining. Johnson did it decisively by posting the quickest run of the weekend in the final, a 3.884-second, 326 mph effort aboard his MD Anderson Dodge Charger SRT Hellcat, to edge out Hagan's 3.886-second pass at 330 mph.

"The last couple races have been "must do well" races and you look over there (at DSR teammates Beckman and Hagan) and they're still going rounds, so when you do face-up against them, it's a must-win," said Johnson. "You can't let them keep going rounds or you fall a round behind. It was huge to be able to take out both of them today and keep ourselves securely planted in it and make it a solid three three-man race right now".

While Johnson remains third in the standings, the win keeps him in contention with just 34 points separating the three teammates atop the leaderboard. His win also extends the DSR's unprecedented streak of victories to a record 11 national events since October 2019.

"It's incredible that we won that many races in a row as a team and that I won the race today," added Johnson. "It's a tribute to all the hard work, even through the lockdowns and everything. These guys are at the shop working and trying to make everything better even not knowing when we would race again. They continually worked hard to keep that advantage. It's extremely hard to make these cars run that good, that long, and that many runs in a row, so to be able to do it for this long is incredible."

The runner-up finish by Hagan moves the Mopar Dodge Charger SRT Hellcat driver into the championship lead ahead of Beckman and Johnson. He advanced to his 63rd career final elimination with round wins against Bob Bode, teammate Ron Capps and Alexis DeJoria.

"As tough as it is to lose a close final like that, we gained ground and took the points lead, Said Hagan. "We had a good weekend and it's hard to complain when you make a final round. That was the bad side of a really good drag race for our Mopar team. It's a Mopar-sponsored event and we wanted to win for Mopar and Express Lane, but at least another DSR Dodge Hellcat won again with Tommy (Johnson). I just can't say enough about my guy working so hard with no mistakes. (Crew Chief) Dickie Venables is really tuning a mean race car. We've had such a fast car all season long. We're making ground and that's what matters. We're used to this thing being tight and most of these championships are won on the final day of the season by one or two points. I'm extremely proud of my guys. It was a good day and weekend at St. Louis."

Capps saw his race day end prematurely along with any hopes of remaining close to the fight atop the standings as a result of a second fiery run in two events; this one resulting in "oil-down" that cost him 10 valuable points and a quarterfinals loss to Hagan.

Race day at the Mopar Express Lane Midwest Nationals was also marked by a frightening Round 2 incident for Leah Pruett and her Mopar Top Fuel dragster. After qualifying ninth, she started her day with a solid first round pass at 3.676 sec./ 328.38 mph over eighth seeded opponent Pat Dakin (0.057/11.817/70.73), but hopes of adding a few more round wins were cut short on her next run. Halfway through her drag race against DSR teammate Tony Schumacher, Pruett went for a wild ride as her dragster broke in two and went airborne before landing back on track and coming to a stop. The Mopar driver exited her vehicle unaided and walked away unhurt but disappointed.

"This was the most intense round of competition I've ever had and the wildest ride I've ever had, that's for sure," said Pruett who, despite the setback, remains third in the standings behind points leader Steve Torrence and Doug Kalitta. "We're still taking time to process and look at the parts and put a plan together for how to move forward. For me, my body is fine. My mind is fine. The DSR chassis and Impact safety equipment did everything it was supposed to. As a drag racer this is what we do. There's a risk. I think the quicker you can get back on the track, the better. Let's not ever do that again. I thank the lord, my team, the chassis shop, Don (Schumacher), and everybody that helped. Not a great start to October and that was an early Halloween surprise. That's for sure."

The brisk temperatures and windy conditions made it more difficult for low downforce vehicles to compete safely on the dragstrip and as such, the NHRA made the difficult decision to postpone racing for all other classes and categories including Factory Stock Showdown. No. 1 qualifier Mark Pawuk and fellow Mopar Dodge Challenger Drag Pak driver Pruett, who qualified seventh, will await an NHRA announcement regarding a later date for the FSS eliminations to be run at another upcoming event.

The Mopar Dodge SRT contingent will head west in two weeks for the 35th annual AAA Texas NHRA Fall Nationals on Oct. 14–18 at Texas Motorsplex near Dallas. NHRA qualifying highlights will be broadcast on FS1 on Saturday, Oct. 17, at 7:30–8:30 p.m. ET, and Sunday, Oct. 18 from 1–2 p.m. ET. Television coverage of the elimination rounds, including Live finals from the Fall Nationals, will air on Sunday, Oct. 18, on FS1 from 2–5 p.m. ET.

Round 3: (0.083/3.903/330.80) (0.068/3.896/327.98) loss to No. Tommy Johnson Jr.

"It's not the way I thought the day would end. I really thought we had the car to beat. Guido (Dean Antonelli) and (John) Medlen tuned perfect for today's conditions. We were low ET, low ET and in the semis second low ET. The problem was the car we pulled up next too, Tommy Johnson, was low ET. The silver lining is a DSR Dodge Funny Car wins for the 11th straight race for Don (Schumacher). The upside for us is that we have three more chances to get trophies and the way our car is performing I wouldn't put it past us."

Matt Hagan, Mopar Dodge Charger SRT Hellcat Funny Car

(No.6 Qualifier – 5.105 seconds at 148.15 mph)

Round 1: (0.094-second reaction time, 3.959 seconds at 319.98 mph) defeated No. Bob Bode (0.031/4.080/266.21)

Round 4: (0.058/3.886/333.00) loss to No. 8 Tommy Johnson Jr. (0.047/3.884/326.08)

"As tough as it is to lose a close final like that, we gained ground and took the points lead. We had a good weekend and it's hard to complain when you make a final round. That was the bad side of a really good drag race for our Mopar team. It's a Mopar-sponsored event and we wanted to win for Mopar and Express Lane, but at least another DSR Dodge Hellcat won again with Tommy (Johnson). Tommy Johnson Jr., MD Anderson Dodge Charger SRT Hellcat Funny Car

(No. 8 Qualifier – 7.220 seconds at 118.97 mph)

Round 1: (0.084-second reaction time, 3.919 seconds at 324.05 mph) defeated No. 9 Terry Haddock (0.115/4.174/283.31)
Round 2: (0.078/3.943/324.51) defeated No. 1 Paul Lee (0.184 /3.892/330.72)
Round 3: (0.068/3.896/327.98) defeated No. 5 Jack Beckman (0.083/3.903/330.80)
Round 4: (0.047/3.884/326.08) defeated No. 6 Matt Hagan (0.058/3.886/333.00)

"What a different set of circumstances from last weekend at Gainesville where it was hot humid, to come to St. Louis where it's cold and the track is tight. My guys did a great job of adapting. It's really hard to make your cars run well in these conditions. The cars want to run good, but it's hard to get them down the track. The team did a great job of adjusting and made the right changes and it kept getting better and better with each run. Racing teammates (Jack) Beckman and (Matt) Hagan in the final was some of the best drag races all weekend. It was close and it was tight and if you want to win this championship you have to step up to the plate. Today this MD Anderson Dodge Charger SRT Hellcat stepped up to that plate. It was just an outstanding car and the fans got a show at the Mopar Express Lane Midwest Nationals presented by Pennzoil with the win."

Ron Capps, NAPA Auto Parts Dodge Charger SRT Hellcat Funny Car

(No. 14 Qualifier – 12.851 seconds at 71.93 mph)

Round 1: (0.110-second reaction time, 3.894 seconds at 331.77 mph) defeated No. 3 Cruz Pedregon (0.046/14.145 /65.73)
Round 2: (0.090/5.182/113.44) loss to No. 6 Matt Hagan (0.080/4.085/249.58)

"I'm not sure what to say at this point. The NAPA guys are tearing the car apart to see what went wrong. That's two pretty good ones in two races. We have to figure out what the issue is. We have a great running car. We had lane choice. It hurts worse when you see your opponent go out and run 4.08 when you have an issue like that. It's depressing when we have such a great car. The good thing is I know they'll dissect the problem and find out exactly what the issue was and we'll have it fixed for Dallas in two weeks."

Leah Pruett, Mopar Top Fuel Dragster

(No. 9 Qualifier – 4.310 seconds at 249.07 mph)

Round 1: (0.037-second reaction time, 3.676 seconds at 328.38 mph) defeated No. 8 Pat Dakin (0.057/11.817/70.73)
Round 2: (0.060/No Time/ No Speed) loss to No. 1 Tony Schumacher (0.071/3.750/291.13)

"That was the most intense round of competition I've ever had and the wildest ride I've ever had, that's for sure. We're still taking time to process and look at the parts and put a plan together for how to move forward. For me, my body is fine. My mind is fine.
