February 17, 2022, Windsor, Ontario - The new 2022 Jeep® Compass is getting another bold look based on customer requests for more custom looks from the factory. The Altitude model, now available for order, delivers legendary Jeep 4x4 capability with unique Gloss Black exterior accents and features.

“The 2022 Jeep Compass ushered in new levels of comfort and functionality. Its legendary 4x4 capability remains at its core, while the stunning, all-new handcrafted interior and advanced technologies attract buyers who want an even more custom look,” said Jim Morrison, senior vice president and head of Jeep brand North America. “We’re taking Compass to another level with the new Altitude model, which adds a distinctive look that will stand out on both the trails and on the streets.”

The all-new 2022 Jeep Compass Altitude, with a Canadian manufacturer’s suggested retail price (MSRP) of $38,095, includes 18-inch Gloss Black aluminum wheels, Gloss Black exterior badges and accents, black-painted roof and bright exhaust tip. The well-crafted and generously appointed interior includes Uconnect 5 with a 10.1-inch digital touchscreen display and integrated navigation, 10.25-inch frameless, full-colour thin-film transistor (TFT) digital cluster, 115-volt auxiliary power outlet, black leather-faced heated front seats with light tungsten stitching, power adjustable driver seat including two-way power lumbar, a premium-wrapped heated steering wheel, Piano Black accents and a black headliner. Ample available safety and security features include Full-Speed Forward Collision Warning with Active Braking, Blind-spot Monitoring and Active Lane Management System.

The new Compass Altitude joins the 2022 (Jeep)RED Compass edition, which recently launched in the United States and Canada, and is part of a multi-brand Stellantis partnership with the (RED) campaign to donate funds that help fight global health emergencies. Based on the well-appointed Limited trim, the special-edition (RED) model includes Redline Pearl-Coat exterior paint, body-colour painted roof and lower cladding, 19-inch aluminum painted wheels, black leather-trimmed bucket seats, Uconnect 5 with 10.1-inch digital touchscreen display and unique (RED) badging.

The Compass Altitude 4x4 and special-edition (RED) 4x4 models come standard with the class-leading Selec-Terrain traction management system, which offers three traction control settings (Auto, Snow, Sand/Mud) to provide optimized calibrations for any given driving scenario.
