

A Sustained Commitment to Developing Diverse Talent

- Stellantis continues as exclusive sponsor of the National Black MBA Association Graduate Student Case Competition
- Competition conducted annually at National Black MBA Association's conference and exposition
- Event enables talented, high-potential MBA candidates from the nation's leading business schools to compete for $50,000 in scholarships
- Company has been exclusive competition sponsor since 1995

October 5, 2022, Auburn Hills, Mich. - Talented MBA candidates from 28 of the nation's leading business schools competed for $50,000 in scholarships in the 2022 National Black MBA Association (NBMBA) Graduate Student Case Competition®, sponsored by Stellantis.

The NBMBA/Stellantis Graduate Case Competition is an annual event that gives high-potential graduate students an opportunity to demonstrate their knowledge and problem-solving skills in a formal competition.

The competition is held each year as part of the NBMBA's annual conference and career fair. This year, the Graduate Case Competition was held Sept. 28 and 29 in Atlanta. Winning teams were announced at the NBMBA Impact Awards on Sept. 30.

"Stellantis is proud to continue its decades-long support of the National Black MBA Association and the Graduate Case Competition," said Lottie Holland, vice president, diversity, inclusion, engagement and EEO compliance, Stellantis North America. "The competition is a showcase event for diversity, leadership and student achievement that enables our company to demonstrate our commitment to identifying, recruiting and developing diverse talent and future business leaders."

The company has been the exclusive sponsor of the Graduate Case Competition since 1995. Over that time, more than 4,800 graduate students have participated.

During the competition, teams are given a business case from which they develop business solutions. Each student team then prepares and presents its case to a panel of experienced business executives. Teams are judged on their analysis of the case, the feasibility of their recommendations and the quality of their presentations.

For the 2022 NBMBA Business Case, students were challenged to create an inclusive marketing strategy for Stellantis brands in the U.S. that builds awareness, consideration and loyalty among Black consumers.

This year, the students from Howard University took home the first-place trophy as national champions and $25,000 in scholarships. The winning team members are all current MBA students at the university.

The second- and third-place teams represented Georgia State University and Clark Atlanta University, earning $15,000 and $10,000 in scholarships, respectively.

An important way Stellantis pursues its long-standing commitment to diversity is by supporting many diversity-serving organizations around North America, particularly in the company's pursuit of diverse talent that is a key ingredient in fueling its innovation.

"These efforts allow us to make strategic investments in talent to sustain a diverse and inclusive pipeline of future leaders," Holland said. "This commitment brings our company's purpose and values to life - powered by our diversity, we lead the way the world moves."
