Introducing Chrysler's First SUV: All-new 2007 Chrysler Aspen

August 31, 2006, Auburn Hills, Mich. -

Boasting elegant Chrysler styling, unsurpassed capability and performance, and abundant premium amenities, the all-new 2007 Chrysler Aspen is the latest addition to the Chrysler brand showroom – a premium SUV that is a value alternative to luxury-priced competitors.

"The all-new 2007 Chrysler Aspen offers customers guilt-free indulgence," said George Murphy, Senior Vice President – Global Brand Marketing, Chrysler Group. "Loaded with premium features, stunning Chrysler design, fuel-saving MDS technology, abundant standard safety features and best-in-class horsepower, torque and interior room, Chrysler Aspen offers more for less."

Compared with large sport-utility vehicles (SUVs), the all-new 2007 Chrysler Aspen is more fuel-efficient and maneuverable. Compared with full-size SUVs, Chrysler Aspen features more interior passenger space and cargo room, coupled with unmatched towing and hauling capability.
